Natanya Nitschkie

Studying a double major in Sociology
and Women studies

My mother has always had a great love for animals, especially cats, so it would only be natural that I would love them too. However, when my mother told me she wanted to show a pedigreed cat at a cat show my first thought was "You can't be serious?! There are such things as cat shows?! Now you really are going to be a crazy cat lady." At first I was skeptical, but after helping my mom during one of her first cat shows, I found myself wanting to go to more. I soon discovered that I too was 'getting the bug' to show a pedigreed cat.

Unlike my mother who loves long haired cats I have always found myself drawn to the short haired variety. I am now the proud owner of a Cornish Rex cat called Waver Dancer Artemis, aka Rexie, who is my constant shadow, laptop warmer, and homework interrupter. Call me a crazy cat lady if you want, but if I hadn't been introduced to the cat show world, I never would have met so many great people (and made great friends along the way!), let alone have my special little guy.
